Approved January 21, 1862.

Cataline and Jeff. Davis.

There are no two characters in history in which there are more points of coincidence than between Lucius Sergius Cataline of the Republic of Rome, and Jefferson Davis of the American Republic. Cataline, before his conspiracy had been a Roman general in Asia, as Davis had been an American general in Mexico. Cataline's misconduct there, as Jeff. Davis' motives should have done to him, rendered him ineligible to the office of Consul, to which he aspired, as Davis did to the Presidency. Failing twice in his ambitious projects, he set about destroying the Government he could not control, not as an open enemy, but as a pretended friend. Cataline was a rich patrician by birth, as well as Jeff. Davis. Both affected to espouse the cause of the people, though both were intolerant aristocrats. In Rome, there were many debauched and impoverished nobles, who entered readily into Cataline's conspiracies, as in Washington, there were those who espoused the wicked cause of the great American rebel. Cicero traced out all the labyrinths of Cataline's plots, but the Roman law, like the American Constitution, provided that nothing but overt acts of Treason could be made ground for an arrest. Cataline took his seat in the Roman Senate for weeks and months, while his conspiracy was maturing, as did Jeff Davis in the American. Cataline thought there were two bodies in Rome—the nobles, weak, both in body and head, and the people, strong, but heedless—and it was his purpose to supply them with a head. Jeff Davis entertained similar political notions.

Measures being ripe for the revolt, some of Cataline's associates left Rome and went into Etruria, to raise the standard of civil war, and others went into other States of the Republic, as Jeff. Davis's associates left Washington to seat the republic of South Carolina and other rebel States.

Still, at this time, Cataline walked the streets of Rome unarrested. Though guiding the complicated movements of a grand rebellion, he professed entire innocence, and declared his belief that the alarm that Cicero had raised was a mere pretense. In the morning of the very day he left Rome to join his rebel army in Tuscany, he walked into the Roman Senate with the same effrontery that Jeff. Davis did before he left the American Senate to take command of the rebel army.—Even Cicero, as well as he knew Cataline, was amazed at his audacity. The mask once off, Cataline displayed great energy in marshaling his forces. His agents, like the minions of Jeff Davis, were everywhere busy in rousing the spirit of revolt. The conspirators left the city of Rome, as our modern conspirators did in Washington, their supply agents, to murder the officials of the nation, and seize on the ruins of the government, and Cataline, by a secret and forced march of his army, was to be at hand and co-operate with the traitors inside, and take possession of the Eternal City.

The American rebellion has been but a copy of the Roman. But Cataline's plans to seize the city were frustrated, his co-conspirators in the city were detected, tried and executed. An army was raised and set in pursuit of Cataline, who had gone into Gaul, and was then at the head of 12,000 men. The two armies met and fought a desperate battle; the rebels were beaten and Cataline slain in the thickest of the fight, and thus ended the greatest conspiracy recorded in history. If this of Jeff Davis, so similar in all its parts, shall be written.

As was the Roman, so the American traitor is—an arrant demagogue, and is a traitor because he could not be chief without being at the head of a rebellion.—Exchange.

A FAIR ILLUSTRATION.—The Rev. Dr. Breckinridge happily illustrated the evasiveness and timidity of his opponents in the Presbyterian General Assembly. He said:

Every speech giving utterances from a disloyal bosom seems to signify that it would be no harm, by silence, to disgrace the church; and yet deem any plain and unequivocal allusion to the difficulty as exceedingly harmful. One very hot day a West India lady directed her servant to take some ice and some liquor, and some lemon, and mix them for her drink. "And if you please, mistress," said the servant, "shall I put in a little nutmeg?" "Begone, you beast," screamed the mistress; "do you think I would drink punch?" (A laugh.) So, now, when I put in the "nutmeg," and make the question unequivocal, the brethren manifest abhorrence of the whole matter.

PARLIAMENT MAKING A FOOL OF ITSELF.—An Eastern paper says:

If any one wishes to see a remarkable case of great guns going off at half cock let him read Earl Russell's and Lord Palmerston's remarks on General Butler's order relating to women, as given in our late English dispatches. It is plain that these and other eminent critics of General Butler have no exact idea of what they are talking about, and they do not seem to be conscious of the propriety of waiting for further information. But what sort of a habit is this which has become so popular in Parliament of condemning in the most offhand manner the course of our officers who are responsible alone to the United States Government, which is not itself amenable to the British Parliament? What would be thought if our Government busied itself to such an extent with England's internal affairs?

BATTLE OF SEVEN PINES.—Richmond papers publish the official return of rebel losses at the battle of the Seven Pines. There were 85 regiments engaged; the loss in killed, wounded and missing was 5,897. This is very near the loss on our side, as reported officially by Gen. McClellan, viz: 5,739.

TUESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 5, 1862.

Oregon State Fair,

The Agricultural Society will make arrangements for a plowing match at Salem. Excellent grounds for the purpose can be had.

No. 32—Plowing Match.—Plowing with oxen, horses, and mules, diplomas will be given: also to boys under 18 years of age, (with some team) provided not less three entries are made with the secretary on or before Tuesday, September 16th.

We trust we shall see some thorough plowing at the Fair. The skimming process must be exploded, except with fossil farmers.

We shall be glad to see competition among young men, (under eighteen years of age) at the plowing match. It will surprise us if they do not set some fine examples for the benefit of their seniors.

We hope the Society will be in funds so as to pay the successful competitors handsome cash premiums.

No. 34—Agricultural Implements.—We need not copy the list of Agricultural Implements and machinery for which the Society offers premiums. They embrace plows, threshers, reaping, sowing, drilling and grubbing machines; wagons, buggies, carriages, drays—in a word, all the improved agricultural machinery, implements and carriages of the day.

Agricultural Machinery make an interesting department of State Fairs; and surely to those who deal in these articles, no better opportunity can be had to display them and explain their advantages to the people.

Class V.—Grains, Seeds, Vegetables and Dairy.

No. 35—Grains. Samples of grain and seed, in all cases, to be deposited in the museum of the Society.

Best samples of broom corn, $3; 2d best, $3. A premium of three dollars for the best, and two dollars for 2d do., is offered on Corn, one bushel or over, Wheat, Barley, Oats, Rye, Buckwheat, and King Philip corn, best 12 ears, 2 and 1 dollars, and best 12 ears 3 other varieties, each, do. do.

No. 36.—Seeds. For the following varieties of seeds, a premium of 2 dollars for the best and 1 dollar 2d do. is offered: Best samples Chinese sugar cane seed, white beans, (1 peck) peas, (1 peck) flax-seed, (1 peck) timothy seed, (1 peck) clover seed, orchard grass seed, hops, (10 lbs); and of newly introduced grain, valuable to the farmer, not less than one bushel, and best assortment of seeds by one grower, each 3 and 1 dollars for 1st and 2d best.

No. 37.—Vegetables.—Handsome premiums are offered for the different varieties of garden vegetables. We trust that this department will be well filled from Marion and the counties adjoining.

No. 38—Flour, meal, etc. Best 100 lbs flour, $4 and $2; 100 lbs corn meal, 3 and 2 dollars; buckwheat flour, do. Best box crackers, not less than 50 pounds, soda biscuit, and pilot bread, each 4 and 2 dollars.

No. 39—Dairy.—Butter. Best 10 lbs 3 mos. old, $4; 2d best, 2 do; 25 lbs, $4; 2d best, 3 do; 5 lbs, $3; 2d best, 2 do; 25 lbs 1 yr old, $4; 2d best, 3 do; to girls under 15 yrs old, best lot of butter, not less than 10 lbs, 5 and 3 dollars. Cheese.—Best specimen, present season, and best 1 yr old, each 5 and 3 dollars.

We shall have abundant evidence, again, that the best cheese and butter can be, and is, made in Oregon. When it is not thus made, it is the fault of the maker. No better climate, grasses and milk, can be found any where in the world, to make a first-rate article of butter and cheese, than in Oregon. We hope to see the ladies as well as the young girls carrying off the premiums.

Class VI. Domestic Manufactures.

No. 40.—These include Oregon brooms, sorghum syrup, Oregon made soap, candles, lard, and many other articles, for which handsome premiums are to be given. In this class, premiums are offered for best specimens of millinery and mantua-making.

Class VII.—Natural History and the Arts.

No. 41—Natural History. Cabinet of specimens native birds and animals of Oregon, 20 and 10 dollars; Cabinet of minerals and geological specimens of Oregon, 15 and 10 dollars.

This is right. We want to see the best collections of birds and animals and mineral and geological specimens of Oregon. The premiums are liberal, and will bring them out.

No. 43—Works of Art.—The Society invites competition in paintings, photographs, &c., &c. Many articles in the getting up of which "fairy fingers" are required. [See Premium List.]

No. 44—Home Work.—Here is a chapter especially for the benefit of the ladies. It is usually called "The Ladies' Department." It can be, and we trust, will be, made rich and gorgeous. Ladies! please look at it.

No. 44—Home Work. Best exhibit of needlework—shirt, quilt, dress, 4 and 2 dollars for 1st and 2d best; best pair woolen blankets, woolen carpet, rag carpet, double woolen coverlet, ten yrds jeans, ten yds linsey, ten yds flannel, each 3 and 2 dollars; 2 pairs woolen stockings or socks, 2 pairs cotton, fancy knitting, plain needle work, plain shirt by girl under 12 years, plain shirt, each 2 and 1 dollars; white quilt, patch-work quilt, embroidered toilet cushion, plain toilet cushion, ornamental needle work, worked collar, needle-worked infant's dress, needle-worked shirt, worsted embroidery, cotton embroidery, silk embroidery, embroidered slippers, embroidered child's dress, boy's coat, crochet work, fine sewing by machine, sewing machine, 3 and 2 dollars each for 1st and 2d best.

There is a long list of articles, in the manufacture of which ladies can exhibit their skill and industry. The premiums are very fair, and should bring out a full display of female taste.

We would just say a word for fear we shall forget to do so hereafter. The Society offer premiums for certain articles. In order to secure premiums, articles must be exhibited for which premiums are offered.

Are Legal Tender Notes Receivable for Taxes?—The Herald & Mirror says a case has been made up in San Francisco to get a decision on the question whether legal tender notes—$1,000,000 worth of which came by last steamer—are receivable for county and State taxes. The case is founded as follows: A holder of legal tender notes offered them yesterday in payment of his taxes. The Tax Collector refused to receive them. Suit was immediately commenced against the Tax Collector, and the whole question is to be settled at once in the Courts. We understand that the State Attorney General will appear in the case.

Letter from Lieut. Mullan.

The Walla Walla Statesman contains a letter from Lieut. Mullan, dated July 18th. He expected to conclude his labors on the mountain road in time to be in Walla Walla on the 15th of the present month. He refers to the departure of the steamer Emilie from Fort Benton for the mouth of the Yellowstone, where she expects to meet the steamer Isabel, from St. Louis, with freight and passengers, and would return to Fort Benton in August with them. The Isabel would then return to St. Louis, and the Emilie remain at Fort Benton until next spring, when she would leave for the same point.

Lieut. Mullan notes the arrival of emigrants by the Fort Benton route, and notices their stopping in the mines recently discovered in Deer Lodge valley; states that they must receive supplies from Salt Lake, and ultimately from the East, if not supplied from this quarter. He thinks that our merchants should make arrangements to send goods and provisions to Deer Lodge valley, and to other points in the neighborhood, where population will be drawn by the gold mines.

The Lieutenant does not like the route fixed upon for the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad. He says the road will not benefit the upper country—will be merely a branch road from California; that it will not realize for us any of the advantages of the Chinese trade; and, in fact, will only serve to attach Oregon and Washington as dependents upon California. The Lieutenant wants a railroad that shall bring emigration from the East and secure the development of the rich treasures of Eastern Oregon and Washington—an independent line—not a branch which shall compel us to go a thousand miles out of the way to reach the Eastern cities. We suppose, in truth, the Lieutenant is in favor of the Northern Route—from Lake Superior via Fort Benton to the Columbia river and the Sound.

The Valley of Willamette requires for the proper development of its agricultural wealth, a railroad through its whole length; and the same improvement is required to bring out the undeveloped riches of Umpqua and Rogue valleys. We need a railroad through this valley; and it never will fairly exhibit its advantages—its vast agricultural riches—until we have such railroad. If the Government will assist in constructing such a railroad, be it so. We shall be glad to witness it; but still we do desire—we shall always insist—when the thing can be done, that the branch railroad for the benefit of Oregon and Washington shall leave the grand trunk in the neighborhood of the South Pass—else that a railroad on the Northern Route shall be constructed.

We shall be content, however, for the present, with one overland railroad. It will be sometime even before that is finished. But we recollect that when this war is over, we shall have some five hundred thousand men, inured to toil, a large portion of whom could be employed on the road, and that with these men, and money enough, what can be done by human means, will quickly be done. The less difficult portions of the road can be made ready for the cars—which will be connected by stages—and we can now realize advantages from the unfinished work. Let a thousand of railroad be completed, and the route will be thronged by passengers traveling to and from the States.

Before this time there has been a meeting of the corporators named in the Railroad Act at Chicago. We trust the business will be placed in such hands as will secure its speedy accomplishment.

Protection of Rebels.—A correspondent of the New York Times, writing from the Chickahominy, recently, entertains the idea that quite too much leniency is exhibited towards factious and open rebels. He says:

> The case of a man named Gaines, whose residence is near the front of our lines, is particularly spoken of. A guard is placed around the house of this fellow, who avows himself a Secession sympathizer, and is reported to have made use of exceedingly insulting and brutal remarks in regard to our dead soldiers, and his property and himself are protected as though he were a loyal citizen. It is also stated that the guard provided for him are stationed in a cow shed attached to his premises, and that he disposes of milk and provisions to them at exorbitant prices. Another Secessionist, Dr. Tyler, a brother of the late traitorous ex-President Tyler, is also protected in a similar manner. This last mentioned rebel is not quite as brutal and indiscreet as the former, but both himself and son, who resides with him, are undisguised Secessionists. It would seem as if their arrest and conveyance North would be more appropriate at this time, when we are on the eve of a battle with their friends.

Repeal of the Law.—The Personal Liberty Bill in Wisconsin has been repealed by the Legislature. In announcing the fact the Milwaukie News of June 19th said:

> Wisconsin to Maryland—Greeting. The Wisconsin Assembly sends across the States to Maryland the assertion of sympathy and friendship—the assurance that our people will stand by her in the maintenance of the Constitution, with all its provisions unimpaired. In a single week the popular branch of our Legislature has blotted out the odious Personal Liberty Law, and indorsed the Union platform of a slave-holding State. A triumph for patriotism this, worth an age of labor. Maryland and Wisconsin pledged to a common declaration of principles. Let the whole world rejoice. Let us hope that the war between States living in the same Union and under the same Constitution, is hereafter ended, and that the age of fraternity and equality has come once more. We are proud that Wisconsin has been the first of all the States of the great Northwest to extend the olive branch of peace on this question of Slavery.

Why Shields was Rejected. The Bulletin's Washington correspondent says the rejection by the Senate of his nomination as Major General of Volunteers, led Gen. Shields to tender his resignation; but he has since been induced to withdraw it. His rejection was in consequence of the conviction that he failed to co-operate cordially with Gen. Fremont in a movement to intercept and cut off the rebel General Jackson, at or near Port Republic.

Vessel Attacked.—The American schooner Ann Eliza, from Boston to Honolulu, with a valuable cargo of merchandise, while passing through the Straits of Magellan was attacked by a party of about 20 Terra del Fuego Indians in three or four canoes, who, in a desperate encounter to take the vessel, killed three of the crew, but were finally repulsed by the Captain, cook and steward, the former having shot three of the Indians with a revolver. The schooner was then taken to the Chilean settlement at Punta Arena, and was kindly furnished by the Governor with money and other necessaries to go to Valparaiso.

Tom Sayers for Australia.—The great English boxer and his troupe consisting of 100 men, 60 horses and 2 elephants, leave England in the ship [illegible] for Australia, September 5, at the termination of the World's Exhibition. He is engaged at the goodly sum of £25,000, or $125,000 for twelve months, exclusive of the voyage each way.

Newell's Pulmonary Syrup is the Greatest Panacea of the Age, for all Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, &c., &c. It is agreeable to the taste, soothing, healing, strengthening, safe, simple and effectual [illegible] any other preparation. REDINGTON & CO.,
Exclusive Agents,
july5-6m 416 and 418 Front st., San Francisco.

The attention of the community is respectfully solicited to the New Goods arrived by the two steamers—embracing a full line of Ladies' Silk Mantillas, French Bonnets, Florals, [illegible] style Hats, Challies, Poplins, and Deloges, together with a full assortment of Gents' New Style thin Cassimere suits, Fancy sacks, Broadway styles of Business Suits, and the very latest fashion of Parisian and New York Fancy Summer Panama Braid and Light Cassimere Hats. All the articles are now ready for sale, and can be seen at Hacker's New Building on First street, in the rear of Commercial Wharf.

Coughs. The sudden changes of our climate are sources of Pulmonary, Bronchial, and Asthmatic Affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. Public Speakers and Singers will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already seen at [illegible] a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and the [illegible] occupy with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. [illegible] is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully equaled him in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary adherence, etc., selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors. Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert, that he is now regarded as the first in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the advertisement of remarkable cures in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in correspondence, please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. NEW TO-DAY.

THE WASHINGTON STATESMAN,

A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER,
Published at Walla Walla, W. T.,
BY N. NORTHROP AND R. R. REES

Terms Invariably in Advance.

One year	$5 00
Six Months	2 50
Three Months	1 75

THE STATESMAN has reliable correspondents in all the mining regions of Oregon, and Washington Territory—Powder River, Salmon River, Oro Fino, Colville, and the Bitter Root and Deer Lodge Valleys; and its facilities for obtaining news from these localities, both through its correspondents and the expresses running from Walla Walla to those points, are superior to those of any other paper published in Oregon or Washington Territory.

The paper is the same size as the Weekly Oregonian, and its large circulation in all the mining regions above mentioned renders it, to merchants and others, an excellent advertising medium. aug5-1mdw

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN may be had at the [illegible] Book Store, and at [illegible]

City Subscribers—Will please excuse the failure to receive regularly a copy of our paper each morning, for a time, as our carrier for the northern route has been taken ill and in consequence has had to employ a new hand at the business, who may probably pass several whom he does not at present know. We hope, however, that the substitute will soon learn the route and punctually deliver the paper as requested. We shall reserve a few extra copies to supply those who may thus accidentally be missed, which can be obtained by calling or sending to our office.

Arrival of the Julia.—The steamer Julia arrived last evening about 7 o'clock from the Cascades, with one hundred passengers and five hundred pounds of gold dust from the Salmon river mines, three hundred by Wells, Fargo & Co., and at least two hundred pounds in hands of passengers. No later news from the mines of importance. The yield of gold still continues to hold out about equal to former results, and the prospects for new diggings are quite flattering. We shall publish to-morrow some interesting facts concerning the mining region of the North, the result of personal observation by a gentleman well versed in scientific and mineralogical research.

Conference.—The Methodist Episcopal Conference for Oregon and Washington Territory, meets at Vancouver, W. T., to-morrow. We are informed that most of the ministers connected with this Conference have already arrived, and it is believed that a full attendance will be present. We shall cheerfully publish their proceedings when convened, provided some friend will furnish us with a report.

Lecture.—Let it not be forgotten that Bishop Simpson is to deliver a lecture to-night in the M. E. Church. His subject will be upon his own personal observations of the Holy Land, and will undoubtedly prove highly interesting and entertaining. We hope the citizens of Portland will turn out en masse, as the proceeds of this entertainment are to be applied to a very commendable purpose.

The ocean steamship Sierra Nevada will not probably sail for San Francisco until late this evening, or to-morrow forenoon.

Willamette Theatre.—There was a very respectable audience to witness the play at the Theatre last evening, and we heard many expressions of praise by those who witnessed the beautiful drama of "A Dream at Sea."—Mr. John Wood, as "Tom Twinkle," was as funny as ever, and Miss Belle Divine sustained the character of "Anne Trevanian" in excellent style,—the closing scene was indeed very beautiful and touching. Mr. Harry Taylor did very well, though he needs more practice in the peculiar and somewhat difficult character to personate of "Lawnce Lanwood," Mr. Thayer and Mr. Cranshaw also did quite well, but they also will improve by more practice. Miss Virginia Lawrence was nearly perfect in her piece, and she seldom fails to sustain her cast on any occasion. The singing of Miss Belle and Miss Virginia was just as sweet as ever, and as usual met with repeated encores. The after piece was quite laughable, and the whole performance together was a very pleasant evening's entertainment. We are not advised when they will play again.

From California.

San Francisco, July 28.—John Curry commences a suit against E. H. Washburn, Tax Collector, for refusing to receive legal tender notes for the amount of his personal taxes. Washburn replied to the complaint that he will continue to refuse them, and deems it his duty to follow the statute, which provides that he shall receive only legal coin of the United States, or foreign countries at a value fixed by the United States. Judge Sawyer decided pro forma in favor of the Tax Collector, to allow an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Iron and metal merchants formed a combination on Friday, and raised the price of all descriptions of English iron ½ cent, and steel 2 cents per pound.

A Boston telegram quotes New England rum at 50 cents.

Receipts of wheat are light; in demand at Saturday's rates—$1 50@$1 55 for an extreme.

Ely Hopkins was arrested to-day, charged with throwing vitrol at his wife, from whom he lately has separated.

The convicts killed and since died from wounds at the State Prison outbreak, are 14, and others will likely swell this number.

California Powder Mill.—Mr. Peck, of California, is now superintending the preparation at New York of first class machinery for a large powder mill, to be erected at or near Sacramento.

Agency Notice.—Mr. L. P. FISHER is our authorized Agent in San Francisco, to receive advertisements, and transact business for the Daily and Weekly Oregonian. Office—No. 121 Washington street, nearly opposite Maguire's Opera House.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be in the possession of everybody in the mining region. As a preventive of various dangerous diseases to which the gold seeker is liable, it has no superior. While it is not palatable even as a beverage, it is speedy and powerful in its effects upon the system. In all cases of Diarrhoea, Dysentery, and the prevailing fevers consequent upon exposure, the Bitters will be found invaluable as a corrective. No man should enter upon the expensive camp life of a miner without being provided with Hostetter's preventive of stomach diseases, nor should any of those who are now engaged in the occupation fail to have recourse to the Bitters. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

FAMILY
SEWING MACHINES
ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION
—AND—
Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE
SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction and easily kept in order, should make a stone lock stitch, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.
It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk, directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads and with uniformity, and should have a straight needle, curved ones being liable to break.
The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.
It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, [illegible] stitch, fell, run and gather, and should be always ready to work.
It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk [illegible] to correspond with any [illegible] to be united.
It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam and to commence sewing tightly at the first stitch and [illegible] easily, and make but little noise.
It should have a wheel feed [illegible] are in constant [illegible] with the work.
It should not be liable to get out of order, neither should it require a screw driver or a wrench to set the needle.
It should not be liable to soil the operator's dress.
It should not form a ridge on the under side nor ravel.

Opening of the World's Fair.

Graphic details are published of the opening ceremonies at the great Exhibition, which passed off with perfect success. The number present was thirty thousand, all being season ticket holders.

The London Times pronounces the ceremonial emphatically the grandest, best managed, most imposing public pageant seen in England for years. Matters were of course in an unfinished state in the building, but certainly at a more forward state than at the opening in 1851. Compared with that of 1851, the mere spectacle was as much more gorgeous as the exhibition itself is better.

Earl Granville, in the name of the Commissioners, presented an address to the Duke of Cambridge, as a representative of the Queen, and the Duke made a suitable reply, the death of Prince Albert being feelingly dwelt upon by both.

The Duke of Cambridge subsequently proclaimed, by command of the Queen, the Exhibition formally opened, amidst enthusiastic cheering. The musical arrangements were carried out according to the programme, and were very grand.

The London Post, in an editorial on the opening, moralizes and deplores the sad spectacle presented by the American attendance at the Exhibition.

The second day the admission was one guinea. The number of people was 32,596.

The Wool Market.

The following statement of the Wool Market, we clip from the San Francisco Prices Current, of May 20:

New York, May 1st.

Since the first of April the demand for domestic fleeces has continued very moderate, the auction sale in Boston being the prominent feature of the month. Prices have still further declined, and as the season is drawing to a close, holders show a disposition to make concessions in order to reduce their stocks. It is evident that there will be a considerable amount of fine wool carried over; and at the present market rates, it would seem to be for the interest of consumers to purchase these wools, in preference to going early into the country for fresh clips. The views of growers will naturally be higher than they were last year, and it is very probable they will ask more for their wools than the still depressed state of general business will justify manufacturers in paying. The great advance which took place last summer and autumn arose from a cause which is not likely to operate during the approaching season, and while we do not think wools will be, or ought to be sold by the farmers at last year's prices, it is quite likely that many will, by going to the other extreme, lose sales by holding their clips above the market value.

Pulled wools have not changed materially in price, and a fair amount of the most desirable kinds has been taken. In California wools some sales have been made at reduced prices, and a number of good lots of fall clip are being offered at low figures.

The Egyptian Carpenter.—The workmen of Egypt, in the days of the Pharaohs, were excellent handicraftsmen, and never "scamped" their work. In carpentry, the Egyptians of old greatly excelled; their mode of joining boards together is worthy of remark, combining, as it did, strength and neatness. When two boards are joined together on edge by our modern carpenters they frequently insert small, round pins into corresponding parts of the edges, and then apply them together. The Egyptian carpenter, was not content with this precaution, and having used flat pins for this purpose, about two inches in breadth, he secured these again, after the boards had been applied to each other, by round pins driven vertically through the boards and into each of the flat pins. Thus the possibility of the joint opening was effectually prevented. The saw, the chisel, the hatchet, the adz, and the drill were well known to the Egyptians of the time of Moses, as were the processes of veneering and dove-tailing. There is no doubt, either, that 3,800 years ago the glue pot was in requisition in the workshops of Memphis and Thebes.

Moss on Roofs.—There is a barn near our farm with a shingle roof fifty years old, and the shingles appear quite as bright and in as good order as most shingle roofs at the end of the first year. When built, it was coated with a lime wash tinted with ochre, and fully charged with glue and salt. This formed an agreeable color, and lasted for many years; the lime present entirely preventing the growth of moss, and also the development of acetic acid from any sappy portion of the shingles. About twenty years since it was again re-coated, with the lime wash tinted with amber. This is now pretty generally removed, still leaving an even color to the roof, and to the shingles a surprising freshness of appearance.

We suppose that lime alone put on as a white-wash, would have answered all these purposes, though not so agreeably to the eye, while the wash tinted to resemble the color of the shingle can never be unsightly.—Working Farmer.

Aristocracy.—We would like to know my dear Sir why you are better than your neighbors, and why do you put on the airs of a premature lord, because you happen to possess a little more property than some other folks? Ain't you subject to disease and death, the same as Lazarus was? Won't you eventually become food for the worms, just like the poorest man in Polk County? Are you certain that your possessions will remain with you until the day of your death? And, my dear Sir, while you are strutting around like a turkey cock on hot ashes, looking down with contempt on your laboring fellow men, and aiming with your slender abilities to establish and perpetuate social distinctions, are you certain that your property and your cash will pay 50 per cent. of your indebtedness? Ain't you head over heels in debt? We think you are. You like show, pomp, splendor! You like to sport the air and reputation of an aristocrat, while the opinion generally entertained of you is that you are no manner of account for any conceivable purpose in this world!

☞ Perpetual sunshine suits not the state of the natural world; perpetual success is by no means favorable either to human happiness or virtue. Hunger is necessary to give a relish to food; the gloom of winter is the happiest recommendation of the cheerfulness and bloom of spring.

SCOVILL'S
SARSAPARILLA
OR
Blood and Liver
SYRUP.

[illegible]

This preparation stands at the head of the list of remedies for curing all diseases arising from impurities in the blood, or diseased matter lurking in the system.

Thousands who have used the Stillingia and Sarsaparilla will testify to its remarkable effect in removing all impurities from their blood, giving tone and vigor to the whole human frame, and restoring a healthy action to all the functions of the body.

The testimonials received in its favor from many members of the Medical faculty would, were we to publish them, fill a large volume.

It is prepared under the supervision of one of the oldest and best practical chemists in the country, Mr. W. S. Merrill, Cincinnati, [illegible]

As a spring remedy to purify and cleanse the blood, [illegible] leaving it free from all humors, [illegible] more pure and healthy, [illegible] with confidence, there is no better medicine.

D., late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War; Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds; Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary; the late Lecturer on Diseases of the Urinary Organs, and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

☞ Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

Office Hours—From 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

☞ Communications strictly confidential. Permanent cure guaranteed or no pay. Consultations by letter or otherwise, FREE.
Address, DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco, Cal.

Of all diseases, the first great cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted!

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance, and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who, in the last stages of the above-mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system, drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] I enclosed I send you twenty dollars over that charge, and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited by my letter, publish it in the newspapers. Respectfully yours, THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

[illegible] Prompted by a desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves acknowledgment, not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly, and from causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with in attempting it, soon became chronic. I was then led to believe as to doubt the skill of any physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning; and although it was fatal to the brother, I yet despised the assistance of my fellow men, [illegible] would render assistance or shelter me from danger or menaces, I sought to prolong the existence of my miseries. While in this state, and having previous to my affliction, tasted the sweet joys of life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking relief of a physician, and by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances, and of my inability to reward him for his services, regardless of which, however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God, I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.

[L. S.] MENDEL YABLONSKY.

State of California, County of San Francisco, ss. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of August, A. D. 1856.
GILBERT A. GRANT, Notary Public.

Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY'S Private Medical and Surgical Institute is on Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office, San Francisco. The Doctor offers free consultation, and asks no remuneration unless he effects a cure. ☞ Office Hours from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

SPERMATORRHOEA, or LOCAL WEAKNESS, nervous debility, low spirits, lassitude, weakness of the limbs and back, indisposition and incapability for labor or study, dullness of apprehension, loss of memory, aversion to society, love of solitude, timidity, self-distrust, dizziness, headache, involuntary discharges, pains in the side, affections of the eyes, pimples on the face, sexual or other infirmities in man, are cured by the justly celebrated physician and surgeon, Dr. L. J. Czapkay. His method of curing diseases is new, (unknown to others,) and hence the great success.
All consultations by letter or otherwise, free.
Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D.
